Wales

Wales, or Cymru in Welsh, is a country in the west of Great Britain. It is mainly a mountainous land with a chiefly agricultural economy and an industrial and coal-mining area in the south.

The landscape is beautiful and many English people move to Wales when they retire, attracted by the mild climate of the coast.

Cardiff, a large city in the south, on the Bristol Channel, was chosen as capital of Wales in 1955, mainly because of its size.

Welsh is an ancient Celtic language similar to Breton, spoken in Brittany, France. In the '60s Welsh was given equal status with English as an official language and is used in the law courts. Road signs are bilingual, it is taught in schools and some TV programmes are broad-cast in Welsh. However, only about 20% of the population speaks Welsh, mainly in the rural north and west.
